SEIBERT IS AFTER ALL-NIGHT SALOONS.

Excise Commissioner Says He Will Revoke All Licenses Where Violation of His Rule Is Shown.

ng closing order, says Excise Commissioner feibert, will be his policy, so long as he the law will be promptly revoked.

As fast as the police report infractions, the Commissioner will summon the dealers to trial. If respondents prove that they have compiled with the law, their licenses will remain operative. If charges are proved to be true, the licenses will be revoked. Easing his opinion upon a judicial decision rendered in a case contested by a predecessor, Mr. Seibert states that he has no jurisdiction over clubs which are chartered, according to law. His authority applies only to saloona been annoyed at night by noises emanating from the saloon. He considered Mr. Kissane all right, but believed the dealer catered to the wrong patronage. The testimony of the police will be heard in this case. The police have reported Hugh Pattison, of the Morgan Club, Jefferson avenue and Chestnut street, for breaking the early morning closing law.

ILLINOIS FARMERS WILL POOL PRODUCTS

Scarcity of Crops Owing to the Drought Suggests Saving of Commission Rates.

the farmers of St. Clair County, which will result in holding a meeting in East St. Louis within the next two weeks, when an benefit will be formed. The association will be in the nature of a pool, and will not

One of the farmers who are in favor of the association explained that its principal object will be the saving of commissions which now go to commission merchants of St. Louis and other places; also in carry-ing expenses for the products of their farms. An exchange of a great portion of the farm products is the basis of the scheme.

Many of the farmers on the bluffs and in the high portions of the county report almost total losses of their corn crops. In the bottoms, however, the corn crops have been good. The potatoes in the bottoms this year, it is said, are inferior and the bluff potatoes will be used exclusively. Good hay has been raised in the bottoms. Applies and other fruit look well in the bottoms, but have been raised in the bottoms. Applies and other fruit look well in the bottoms, but have been burned on the bluffs. It is the intention of the men interested in the association to get the farmers all interested in the scheme, and then, by means of the mails, to let each other know just what his particular wants are for the winter and what fruits or vegetables he has in plenty and desires to exchange. It is the intention to allow the market price to prevail at the time of the exchange. This will be a saving to the farmers of the carrying charges to the market, and also of the commissions charged by the commission merchants. Many of the farmers believe that the scheme is perfectly feasible, and point to examples where they have traded about in a small way for years.
